

Reflective Questions for When God Calls You in the Game

1. What does Scripture reveal about the danger of a “spectator faith”?

Spectator faith creates the illusion of growth without the obedience that produces it.

James warns that hearing without doing leads to deception.

“Do not merely listen to the word, and so deceive yourselves. Do what it says.” —James 1:22

Faith matures through movement, not observation.

2. Why does fear keep so many men on the sidelines of spiritual life?

Fear of failure or inadequacy convinces men that obedience requires perfection. Yet God equips the willing, not just the qualified.

“Be strong and courageous...for the Lord your God will be with you wherever you go.” —Joshua 1:9

Courage is not the absence of fear; it’s obedience in spite of it.

3. How does serving alongside other men build strength and endurance in faith?

Brotherhood sharpens discipline and steadies resolve. Faith grows faster in community than in isolation.

“As iron sharpens iron, so one man sharpens another.” —Proverbs 27:17

Isolation dulls a man’s edge; brotherhood keeps it sharp.

4. What truth does Scripture teach about each man’s unique role in the body of Christ?

Every believer has a function designed by God; no part is expendable or unnecessary.

“Now you are the body of Christ, and each one of you is a part of it.” —1 Corinthians 12:27

Bench-sitting weakens the body; participation strengthens it.

5. Why does obedience often start with small, ordinary acts?

God uses simple steps to build greater faith. The smallest “yes” can become the doorway to lifelong calling.

“Whoever can be trusted with very little can also be trusted with much.” —Luke 16:10
Great obedience is built from small beginnings.

6. How does failure fit into the process of growing faith and courage?

Failure refines what comfort can't. Each fall trains a man to rise with wisdom and resilience.

“Though the righteous fall seven times, they rise again.” —Proverbs 24:16
Falling isn't defeat; staying down is.

---

7. What does real success look like from God's perspective?

Success in the Kingdom isn't measured by recognition but by obedience. God values faithfulness over fanfare.

“His master replied, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant.’” —Matthew 25:21
God celebrates participation more than perfection.

---

8. Why is community essential for sustaining an active, obedient faith?

Men drift when disconnected. The Church was designed for mutual encouragement and accountability.

“Let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds...encouraging one another.” —Hebrews 10:24-25
Faith thrives when men move forward together.
